Free AI Resources for Beginners

Curated for Mums on Cloud Nine Podcast Listeners by Julia Druck

Why These Resources?

Getting started with AI doesn't have to be complicated. I've put together my favourite free resources for learning about AI agents and automation.

Start with Lindy. It's what I use for my Family Command Centre, and it's genuinely beginner-friendly. Once you're comfortable, explore the other platforms to find what works best for you.

 No coding required for any of these.

About Julia

I'm Julia Druck, founder of Serpin. I help professional services firms implement AI thoughtfully, focusing on practical automation that actually works.

Before starting Serpin, I spent years as a product manager, which means I think about AI in terms of real problems and real solutions, not hype.

The Family Command Centre I mentioned on the podcast? That started because I was drowning in school emails, club schedules, and birthday party invites.

Now an AI agent handles it all.
